The Ford

The Ford is a very peculiar animal. It is this way: when it takes a notion to go, it does go; and when it takes a notion not to go, it doesn't go, and it takes nothing short of a miracle to alter its decision.

You have to wind up a Ford before it will run at all. You get everything set, then you go around to the front and go to winding. After you wind it so long, it takes a foolish notion to go, and then, in your excitement to get in and get started, you catch your coat on the fender. There you stand, saying a few bad words by way of giving vent to your feelings, and while all this is coming off the engine dies, and you know what is up next. You must use up a little more of your surplus energy winding it up again. This time you flood the engine and it won't start at all; so you sit down on the running board, with still a little of that profane language at the end of your tongue, to wait for some of the water and coal oil to evaporate.

After you have sat there what seems to have been an hour, you decide to try your luck again, thinking that the third time is always a charm. The first time you turn it over, it starts right off; so around you go and crawl under the steering wheel, with the determination that if you ever get it on the road there is no machine made that will pass you. As all these pleasant thoughts are going thru your mind, you push in the clutch and the darned thing just jumps the length of itself, and then you realize that the engine has stopped again.

With a sigh of resignation, you pull down both the gas and the spark levers and get out again. This time just as you get hold of the crank and get started to pull up, something happens. The crank starts the other way and goes so fast that you think the blamed Ford is going to fly off the crank! Realizing that it is not good for the crank to go so fast, you go up and put up the spark and try cranking it again. Ah! It starts right off, and away you go!

You spin along merrily, telling yourself the thing never worked better; it is purring just like a kitten. But alas! you are only a mile or two from home when the engine suddenly begins to stop. When the momentum has died away you crawl out to see what is wrong. Upon examination you find the timing gears shot and the gas feed broken, and three or four of the spark plugs worn out, and the pin in the drive shaft cut off, and numerous other things in need of immediate repair. Although it seems a shame to bother with such trifling annoyances, you finally decide to call up the St. Vincent and have "Ping" come out and pull you in.

After several months of hard work on the part of "Ping," the Ford is in running order again. You ask him what the bill is, and he replies, "I usually get a dollar an hour. So figure it up for yourself." Instead of going to all this trouble, however, you just say, "Keep the Ford. I am glad to get off so cheap."

—Carmon Smith '22

"Ping" was Roena's Dad's nickname!
Short for "Ping Ding" Roy was Mom's brother.

Past Weeks News From Farmer--Paid Honors at Golden Wedding

[illegible]
Farmer Phone [illegible]

The death of our old friend, Roy Bayes, came as a saddening thought and the sympathy of all goes out to his widow, his two sons, one of whom is in the South Pacific, and the daughter still in England. All three graduated from Farmer high school. His sister, Mrs. Wallace Buda, also received news Monday that her second son, Charles, had been killed in Germany. Besides the parents, who reside on a farm near Bryan, he leaves two brothers and a sister at home, Bob, Ned and Anna. Funeral services for Mr. Bayes were held at the Union church here Wednesday.

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ridenour was attended by about 50 people Sunday. Among those from some distance were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haase of Kendallville, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. Harry [illegible] of Hudson, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] [illegible]

Mrs. Alice [illegible] had as guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. T. [illegible] and Miss Bertha of Genoa, O. There were 17 ladies present at her Ladies Day last week.

Will Walden of Williams Center, who has been quite ill, is moving in with his sister, Mrs. Roma Blair, and all will be in charge of Mrs. Meda Walden Tapp.

Attendance at the fall meeting held in Hicksville last week was 170. Milford Community club won the banner again with 21 members. The program consisted of demonstrations by 4-H club girls, song by Phyllis and Lowell Applegate, solo by Mrs. Marie Keller, who also led in club singing, a sketch by Milford club, duet by Mrs. Carma Garber and Mrs. Martha Krantz of Washington township, and sextette from Farmer club. Speakers were Miss Rhea Shields and a talk on life in Korea by Mrs. C. O. [illegible] of West Unity who with her husband had lived in that country for [illegible] years and had three sons born there. Mr. Bayes had resided in Sherwood for the last five years, having gone there from Farmer. He operated a shoe repair shop at Sherwood before going with the highway garage at Defiance.

He was born Sept. 8, 1879, a son of William and Mahala Bayes. He was married at Hicksville on July 4, 1901, to Ella Fickle, who survives.

Surviving also are a daughter, Roena Bayes, a WAC, stationed in England; two sons, Albert Bayes, with the U. S. Army in New Guinea, and Hollis Bayes of Bryan; a sister, Mrs. Florence Buda of Bryan; and three grandchildren, one of whom is Darrel Bayes with the U. S. Marines stationed in North Carolina.

Mr. Roy Bayer.

Dear Cousin Roy & family:

Your sad message received today and because it will be impossible to be with you in your sorrow I am writing these few lines. I know what it means to have mother leave never to come back again but I am so glad that she had her trust in God and has gone to a far better world & home than this. And altho' she can not come back to us we can go to her. Dear Roy I am praying if you have not as yet been brought to Jesus that as my mothers death brought me to the place where I realized the path I was treading so may your heart be softened that the gentle influence of the Saviors wonderful love may find its way there.

I thought I had about as good a time as any one when I was in the world and partaking of its pleasures, but I find that in the service of Jesus there are far richer joys that the world can never offer. And I would not exchange one day of my life now for all I ever spent in sin. Uncle Will & Aunt Hade have both gone to inherit their mansions and how beautiful it would be if the whole family might live there together some day. Tell Florence my heart aches for her because I know the aching void than only time can soften & relieve. I have not had Baby Ruth out for three weeks on account of a bad cold & I have no one to leave her with here as I had in [illegible] so it is impossible for me to come. Would be glad to hear from you. Tell Lizinnie my heart also goes out to her in her sorrow. Who did Ward marry? Again offering my deepest sympathy

Your Cousin,

Grace.

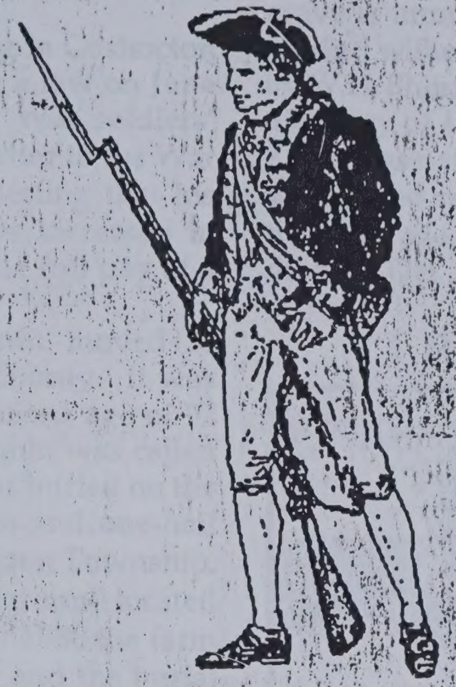
A Williams County Revolutionary War Hero

by Richard L. Cooley

Author's Note: Thanks to Roena Bayes of Fairfield, Pa., for sharing with us family data concerning Revolutionary War hero Benjamin Fickle. Up to now little has been known about the life of this man who is buried in the Fountain Grove Cemetery at Bryan. The following was condensed from Ms. Bayes' notes.



Benjamin Fickle was born Sept. 11, 1746 to Michael and Margaret (Slaymaker) Fickle, probably in Lancaster County, Pa.

About 1762, Benjamin's father, having purchased land known as Brooks' Discovery on Piney Creek in Maryland, relocated there.

On June 21, 1775, at a meeting held at the courthouse by the Committee of Observation of Frederick, Maryland, which requested two companies of expert riflemen join the army at Boston, Benjamin enlisted. He joined the first company of light infantry under the command of Capt. Michael Cresap. The company later fell under the command of Capt. Thomas Price.

This unit became noted for their dress consisting of white frocks or rifle shirts, breeches and round hats. The expert riflemen were even more famous for their accuracy of aim at 200 yards.

When Colonial troops were forced to evacuate Boston, the 1st Battalion, 6th Company, Flying Camp from Frederick County, Maryland, engaged in the Battle of Long Island on Aug. 27, 1776, and Sgt. or 3rd Lieut. Benjamin Fickle was wounded and later discharged.

By Sept. 9, 1778, Benjamin Fickle had joined the Maryland Line, 7th Regiment, and became an ensign on Jan. 26, 1780. On Feb. 19, 1780 Fickle was appointed second lieutenant. The 7th Regiment saw action in the Southern campaign and again Benjamin was wounded, this time at the Battle of Camden which was fought Aug. 16, 1780.

From January 1781 to April 12, 1783, Benjamin served with Gunby's Battalion. Lieutenant Fickle was released from active service on Nov. 15, 1783.

It is also believed that Benjamin was one of the famous "Maryland 400." These volunteers became famous when 256 of the 400 men sacrificed their lives at the Battle of Long Island, N.Y., on Aug. 27, 1776, while covering Washington's retreat. Of their bravery, Gen. George Washington was quoted as saying, "Good God! What brave fellows I must this day lose." Their heroic stand was a precious hour in American history. Benjamin was wounded that day.

On May 13, 1783, the Convention of Continental Officers organized themselves into the "Society of Cincinnati." The convention was held at Major General Baron von Steuben's headquarters—Newburg on the Hudson. The name for the organization was taken from the illustrious Roman, Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus.

On Nov. 21, 1783 a meeting was called by General Smallwood and held at the Mann House in Annapolis, Maryland. Many of the officers who had been at the national meeting attended the Annapolis meeting as well. Lieutenant Fickle was at the meeting to help elect the first officers and thus became a founding member of that society.

Some details of Fickle's life after the war are vague, but he was living in Kentucky, for his son Isaac H. was born there in 1796. On Aug. 25, 1800, Benjamin is found paying taxes in Mason County, Kentucky.

Benjamin was awarded four 50-acre tracts of land west of Fort Cumberland, Allegheny County, Maryland, which he sold in 1805. At this time he was living in Muskingum County, Ohio.

On July 7, 1808 a deed was recorded at the Delaware County, Ohio, courthouse granting Benjamin a tract of land appropriated for satisfying warrants of military service. In 1811 and 1812 Benjamin also purchased land at Zanesville, Ohio.

Of Benjamin's first wife, information is not available, but he did marry a second time on April 7, 1825 to Phebe Harris at Coshocton County, Ohio.

While Benjamin was still living in Coshocton County, the U.S. Congress passed a law on June 7, 1833 increasing Revolutionary War soldiers' pensions. Benjamin submitted a letter to the War Department on Dec. 2, 1833 requesting that his half pay of a lieutenant for life be increased in accordance with the new law to the full pay of a lieutenant.

Sometime after 1833 Benjamin moved to Jefferson Township in Williams County. It was here on May 20, 1839, at the advanced age of 92 years, 8 months and 9 days, Benjamin was called to his higher reward. Benjamin was buried on the banks of Leatherwood Creek, two and one-half miles northeast of Pulaski in Jefferson Township. The burial site was a private burial ground located on the farm of his son Isaac H. By 1888 the farm had been sold to George Altaffer, and the burial plot had not been reserved.

Benjamin had eight children, three of whom were still living as of Aug. 15, 1857. They were Isaac H.; Rachel, who married Thomas Vansky in Muskingum County, Ohio; and Catherine, who married a Killpatrick.

The saga of Benjamin Fickle did not stop at his death. It had been known for some years among the "old-timers" that a Revolutionary War soldier was buried on the Altaffer farm. For two or three years W.E. Stough had been urging someone to remove Fickle's remains to a proper cemetery. Finally, and under the auspices of the Bryan Evans Post G.A.R., Benjamin's remains were moved to the Bryan Fountain Grove Cemetery (then known as Fountain Lawn).

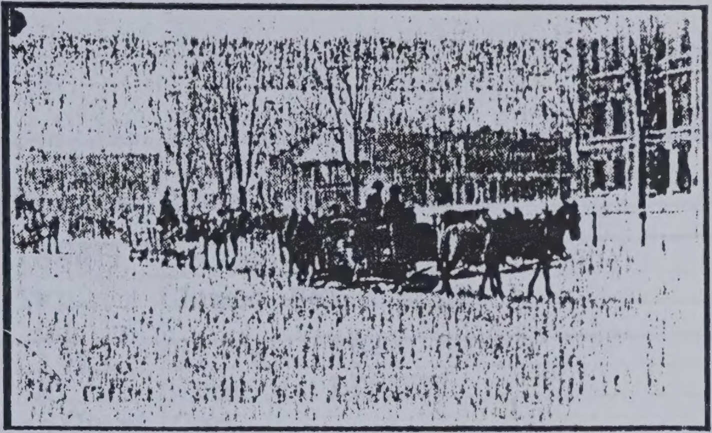
Of the removal of Benjamin's remains, the April 26, 1888 Bryan Press stated, "the bones were found in a good state of preservation though the coffin, which was made of walnut lumber, had almost entirely disappeared."

At the time Benjamin's remains were removed to Bryan, the only remaining relatives in the area were the widow of Isaac Fickle and her children, who were then residing at Farmer in Defiance County. WCHS member Roena Bayes of Pennsylvania is a descendant of Isaac, Benjamin's son.

A tombstone to mark Benjamin's resting spot was not provided, although the location of his grave at the Bryan cemetery seemed to be well known. In 1905 the editor of the Bryan Press stated, "the grave is unmarked, but it should be located and marked without delay. These facts were discovered by W.H. Shinn in the work he is doing in preparing a history of the county."

It was not until July 1947 that Benjamin's grave was located and a stone made to permanently mark the burial site. The stone incorrectly states Benjamin died on Oct. 10, 1838.

I Remember When...



This photograph shows several boys "hopping a bobsled" on the east side of the courthouse square in Bryan in 1909. (Bryan Public Library's Photographic Archives)

by Grant Brown

I remember when on Saturday mornings in the winter the big winter sport was hopping bobsleds. That seemed to be the day that farmers would bring their corn, oats, wheat, etc., to the gristmill or elevator to have it ground up for cattle feed, etc. There were no soybeans back then; Henry Ford was responsible for that crop in this area.

They would bring it in on their bobsleds which were pulled by a team of horses. A lot of kids would be out on the street jumping on the side of the sled and riding up and down Main and High streets. We would ride one out to the edge of town, then hop another to come back to the gristmill. You see, in those days they did not plow the snow so the streets always had plenty of snow on them. Once in a while you would have a farmer that would ask you not to ride, but most of them did not seem to care, and were very nice about it.

Crossing the Bar

Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea.

For though from out
our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far
I hope to see my Pilot
face to face
When I have crossed the bar.

Death Takes Wm. Fickle

Former Village President, Businessman

Death again took another old timer in Shepherd Monday when William Fickle, 78 died suddenly at the home of his daughter Mrs. William Clevenger.

Mr. Fickle had been in his usual health until taken ill Monday morning and was lying down resting after the doctor, called by his son-in-law when he complained of feeling ill, had gone away. He passed away peacefully in his sleep only a short time afterward.

Mr. Fickle has been a long time resident of Shepherd having been identified with the business district for many years. At one time he was employed by E. C. Wilson in his grocery store later when taken over by J. R. Williams, Mr. Fickle continued his work there until buying the Sunoco station which he operated for many years. He was also much interested in village affairs and served as president of the village for a number of years.

William W. Fickle was born, September 27th, 1875 at Defiance, Ohio to Elias and Eliza Wasnik Fickle and passed away, April 26th, 1954 at the home of his daughter in Shepherd.

He was married to Nora V. Bayes of Hicksville, Ohio on August 8, 1896 and she preceded him in death on February 25, 1949.

Surviving him are one son Hollis Fickle of Middelton, three 3 daughters, Wilma Stilgenbauer of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Marie Willis of Royal Oak and Dorothy Clevenger of Shepherd, also five grand children.

Funeral services are being held today (Thursday) at 2p.m. at the Garber Funeral Home.

Interment will be made in the Salt River Cemetery.
